MARTIN SWEEPS BUCKS COUNTY BY A 13,531 MAJORITY

AMERICAN PEOPLE GIVE REPUBLICANS CONTROL OF BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE; GAIN FIFTY SEATS IN THE HOUSE

By William K. Hutchinson
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(INS)—The American people today have given the Republican Party control of both House and Senate in the Eightieth Congress.
The Republicans won a victory of landslide proportions over the Democrats, capturing even a majority of the Nation's Governors.
The voters gave an emphatic "yes" to the Republican query whether they "had enough" of the Democratic New Deal in Washington. They gave the Republicans a terrible boost toward capture of the Presidency in 1948.
The last time the GOP won both House and Senate from the Democrats was in 1918. Two years later, they gained the White House, too.
It was apparent that the American electorate was tired of leftwing philosophy in the Nation's capital and veered away to the right.
At 9 a. m. EST, the Republicans had a net gain of 50 seats in the new House when only 26 were needed for a GOP majority. They won 51 seats from Democrats but unexpectedly lost one—in the First Colorado District—to a Democrat.
At that hour, they had a clear working majority of 195 votes. Two seats were still in doubt.
This would make the new House lineup: 241 Republicans, 191 Democrats, 1 Independent, and two in doubt.
At the same time, the Republicans gained ten Senate seats, just enough to organize the Senate 49 to 37. These victories were scored in Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Missouri, Idaho, Montana, Wisconsin and in Nevada, an upset. A Republican also led in Washington.
The GOP kept their seats in California, Connecticut and Kentucky, where the Democrats had hoped to make offset gains.
Democratic Senatorial nominees were leading in West Virginia, Wyoming and New Mexico in close races. They also retained seats in Maryland, Rhode Island, and Utah.

"DOUBLE OR NOTHING" SAFETY QUIZ HELD

Trooper Leland Emery Serves as 'Quiz Master' at Langhorne School

'MOVIES' ALSO SHOWN

LANGHORNE, Nov. 6.—With Trooper Leland Emery, of the Doylestown sub-station of the Pennsylvania State Police in charge, assisted by William A. Lehman, AAA representative of the Doylestown club, students of Langhorne-Middleton schools held a safety education quiz program a few days ago.
Trooper Emery, who staged a "double or nothing" quiz at a student assembly of more than 200 high school pupils, served as the "quiz master" on questions in the student manual.
Five pupils emerged as the winners and received prizes consisting of five gallons of gasoline, oil, gloves and ice cream cones. The prizes were contributed by businessmen in that section.
About 150 pupils from grades seven, eight and nine were also given an assembly program stressing safety education. These pupils saw a motion picture.
About 75 smaller children, who attend grades one to four in Franklin school, were given a quiz and shown a movie.
Trooper Emery stressed the importance of safety in the home, school and on the highways.
"I hope that with safety education being taught in the schools of Bucks county we can avoid a tragedy like that which happened over the weekend near Wilkes-Barre in a head-on two-car collision in which nine persons were killed," Trooper Emery said.

SO WE'VE "HAD ENOUGH!"

The sun went down last night on a political era. It rose this morning on a new chapter in the making. The counting of the votes proved many things, but perhaps the most important were, first, that the American people had "had enough;" and second, that they knew what to do about it.
It was a smashing victory of the "terrible meek." Perhaps never in history has a supposedly free people had such a showing around as Mr. Average Citizen under the New Deal.
He's been deceived, defrauded, lied to; he's been told what to do and what not to do; he's been herded by rules, prodded by orders, pinched by scarcities.
The powers that be at Washington have carefully courted every block of votes in the nation except the biggest of all—just the ordinary, simple, sincere, patriotic Americans themselves, who make up this country.
Way back when the New Deal was young, the power boys said among themselves: "We can do as we please, and the public is too damn dumb to know what goes on."
The vote yesterday proved that this estimate of the public's mental capacity was grossly inaccurate.
Today it's a new world.
Especially for ardent Republicans. They are on top of the earth. Not for years have they held so strong a position. They have the inside track for the next Presidency. From an under-dog position in national affairs, they have jumped to a grip on Uncle Sam's purse-strings and veto power over the White House, with a vote of confidence by the American people to encourage their using these weapons.

FIRE RAZES FOUR DWELLINGS AND DESTROYS CONTENTS AS BLAZE SWEEPS AREA NEAR SIMPSON GROVE, TREVOSE

By Staff Reporter
TREVOSE, Nov. 6.—Four two-story frame dwellings along with the contents of furnishings, food and clothing of the occupants, were leveled to the ground here yesterday at noon when fire swept an area across from Simpson Grove Camp Meeting grounds. The loss is estimated at about $20,000.
The blaze originated with a pile of burning leaves, the flames of which leaped out of control as they were fanned by high winds. Firemen from a wide area fought the blaze and prevented the destruction of several other houses which at times were ignited by sparks carried by the wind.
Trees blazed and telephone cables were melted by the heat and telephone service was cut, until temporary lines could be constructed.
The Ladies Auxiliary of Trevose Fire Company set up a kitchen in a pavilion of the Simpson Grove Camp Meeting and served the firemen with sandwiches and coffee, under the supervision of Mrs. Anna Herriet, chairman. The Second Alarmers sent two truck-canteens out from Willow Grove.
The blaze started, it is stated by residents, when flames from a pile of burning leaves leaped across lawns and ignited one of the four properties destroyed.
The houses were owned and occupied by the following:
Russell Everette and family of six children. Only one daughter, Dorothy, 21, was home at the time.

IMPORTANCE OF COURTESY

Impressed by the importance of courtesy and eager to pass on to its employees the latest ideas on the subject, a large railroad—the Erie—is planning a series of conferences for the instruction of its employees.

An official of the company, in referring to the scheduled meetings, said "a fellow may have other problems on his mind when he's ready to start off to work. We try to bring out the point that he should leave them at home. We've made marvelous progress in the last ten years."

It has seemed to many persons, during the war and since, that most business concerns were making rapid progress along this line in the wrong direction.

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that it is unfair for an employee to bring his family problems to his place of employment. An employee, while on the job, owes his best efforts to the concern by which he is employed, and it is a form of chiseling for him to solve his home problems on the company's time.

IN THE MINE HOLE

There is a factor in the controversy between the government and coal miners so important it should not be overlooked. It does not concern such matters as take-home pay, pay for travel time or vacations with pay, which, far-reaching as they are, have become incidental in any modern wage controversy. It concerns the future of the soft-coal industry, which is now under government operation as a result of action by President Truman.

John Lewis is making new demands for his men, and these demands are not directed at the mine owners but at the government. For that reason the situation has become involved politically. Whatever decision the government makes will be based more upon its political effect than its economic justifiability.

For this reason concessions may be made which will make it impossible for private ownership to ever resume operation. The government may be in the coal mining business indefinitely, and at the expense of the American taxpayer.

If this happens in the coal industry, the pattern could be followed in other industries. Seeing miners tapping the federal treasury, other unions could be expected to clamor for similar handouts. This is a trend that, unless stopped in its tracks by the new Congress, points to government operation and eventual ownership of basic industries. John Lewis has the administration in the mine hole, and is making the most of it.

This is another problem bequeathed to the new Congress by a man now dead whose sepulchral voice was heard over radio stations during the recent campaign, vainly urging the voters to take another dose of his clapnet elixir.

Molotov doesn't know much about America, his knowledge consisting mainly of one phrase out of a political speech which he picked up—"I say it again, and again, and again."

SO WE'VE "HAD ENOUGH!"

The election is an almost crippling blow to the Democratic party. It brings the stock of President Truman to the lowest level yet. As a public rebuke, the vote is almost unprecedented. It represents an almost incredible turnover of public opinion within the last eighteen months.

Equally sensational is the public's repudiation of the CIO-PAC political bid for supreme power over Congress, White House, the Democratic Party and the elections.

There's bound to be a lot of housecleaning, and in a hurry.

The last straw which broke the PAC's back was the proof that it was being used as a "front" for Communists. The Moscow radio broadcasts, the Daily Worker indorsements—these were a political kiss of death.

Both the Democratic leadership and labor leadership now have their orders from the American public in most unmistakable terms—"Clean out the Communists!"

President Truman himself may well heed the same orders. With official accusation that between 50,000 and 75,000 pro-Communists are on the public payroll using their jobs to hasten a social revolution, and with such emphatic censure for the dilly-dallying of the White House on this subject, perhaps now something will be done.

If the President won't, Congress will! In many ways, what the American people voted for is something very simple and elemental. Their mandate might be put in this fashion: "Let's roll up our sleeves and go to work!"

It is conspicuous that, in the main, those who ran on this prosaic but powerful platform were elected by large majorities; while the visionaries who wanted to keep on spending money regardless of whether it is produced or not got the merry old heave-ho from the voters.

After the First World War, this sentiment had a campaign slogan, "Back to Normalcy," and it proved irresistible. Once the country got its feet down to earth in the early Twenties, we surged into an era of great peace, prosperity and good will.

Will that happen again? It can and should. Anyone who cares to study the record since the Civil War can quickly find that the Republican Party is the one which has had the secret of creating prosperity.

This we urgently need; and the world needs it, as well. Millions of people are leading subnormal lives; only expanding production and abundance can raise the world's standards of living and produce the mental setting for a just and durable peace.

Many silly predictions have been made about the effects of this Republican victory. Voters were told, for instance, that the so-called "social gains" would be wiped away. This was ridiculous at the time; and still more so now. The biggest industrial states of the union have been under Republican rule for years—and the "social gains" have been defended in them; and they have been financed, so far as State Governments go, without courting bankruptcy.

The "sorehead" element of the Democratic Party will no doubt continue to make such wild, irresponsible charges; and those in position to do so may try to make trouble. Some of those who long accused the Republicans of "obstructionism" now probably will be guilty of some of it on their own account.

But the fight now is in the open. The public which voted to give the Republicans a chance will not be too patient if those it has just repudiated attempt to resist the program which is now in sight.

Meanwhile, America still belongs to the Americans. The temptations of Communism and Socialism and Collectivism and Welfare-Statism, which have been irresistible nearly everywhere else in the world, have been spurned on American soil.

Once again the United States has proclaimed herself the "home of the brave and the land of the free."

Autumn Journey . . . In the wonderland of golden woods and fields, the eager young explorers thrill at seeing nature in her joyous mood.

And on returning home they'll delight in finding another of nature's bounties to add to their fun . . . refreshing, satisfying milk. Especially if it's Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk.

That's the milk that has been "improved" for the children growing up today. It has the smooth, wonderful taste of cream in every drop and equal food value in every sip. It's extra nourishing because it's extra easy to digest . . . and added vitamin D affords extra bone protection.

For the hearty appetites fall brings, be sure to have smoother, richer Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk on hand for your family. Your Supplee milkman and your neighborhood Sealtest storekeeper have it for you.

School Debt Boosts Approved by Voters

In Chalfont Borough a proposal for a $18,000 increase was carried by a vote of: Yes, 212; No, 120. The money is to be used for payment of a proportionate share of the costs of constructing a junior and senior joint high school with one or more school districts.

Doylestown voters approved by a vote of 1797 Yes to 338 No that the debt of the school district be increased in the sum of $185,000 for the district's share toward the cost of junior and senior high school which might be built with one or more other districts.

Doylestown Township favored by a vote of 394 to 80 increasing the district's debt in the sum of $65,000 for a new junior and senior high school erected with one or more other districts.

In Dublin Borough an increase of $10,000 was favored by a vote of 116 to 29 for the erection of a junior and senior high school with other districts.

for the State Legislature, received a large complimentary vote from this community and led in number received by any individual in the Borough. He had 1,234, compared to 1,879 for Ruth, 1,869 for Yeakel and 1,896 for Stockham.

In the race for State Senate, Republican candidate Watson led the Democratic candidate by 28 in the Bristol voting.

Two years have witnessed a large shift in voting strength towards the Republican column. In 1944, President Roosevelt carried the Borough by 709 votes.

In Bristol Township the Republican trend also was strongly in evidence.

Governor Martin carried the Township by 413 majority; Duff by 384; Strickler by 308; Livingood by 235; Gerlach by 279; and the two Republican members of the State Legislature by better than 300.

OLNEY VETS TO BE ST. ANN'S RIVALS IN GAME SUNDAY

Four Leading Teams to Clash On Cambria Stadium

ST. ANN'S UNDEFEATED

Bridgesburg A. C. to Meet Holmesburg A. C. In Nightcap Game

Four of the leading teams of the Northeast Football Conference will stage two important gridiron clashes on the turf of the Cambria Stadium, Kensington and Torresdale avenue, Philadelphia, on Sunday.

St. Ann's A. C., undefeated in the western division, will meet the Olney Vets, who have been beaten but once and are in second place. The Olney Vets trimmed Cheltenham 42-0, last week while the best St. Ann's could do with Cheltenham was to beat it by a 7-6 score.

In the nightcap of the football twin-bill, the Bridgesburg A. C. will meet the Holmesburg A. C. in the battle for a playoff position for the eastern division of the circuit.

Buses will leave the St. Ann's club-house for the double-header but reservations for a seat on the bus must be made before Saturday.

BRISTOL RAMBLERS TIE ATLANTIC CITY

JAMISON, Nov. 6.—On Sunday afternoon at the Moonlite Garden Roller Rink, the Bristol Ramblers and Atlantic City Americans wound up with a tie score, 2 to 2, in an extra period game.

In the first period the Atlantic City boys held the upper hand by scoring 2 points from the sticks of Deebyshe and Budisi.

In the second period Bristol was quick to capitalize on a break as Tommy Keene broke through the Atlantic City defense and rifled the puck into the net.

In the third period play was fast and hard fought with Tommy Keene firing the puck into the net to tie the score at 2-all. The play was rough from then on with both clubs trying hard to break the tie, but both clubs failed to score, so this brought on a ten-minute extra period.

In the extra period both clubs played hard, but failed to score a point, so the game finished up with the 2-all score.

The play was rough from start to finish with no more than six penalties being issued by the officials as the players were sent to the pen.

ally box. The goal tenders for both clubs received many cheers as time and time again they made many sensational saves.

THIRD WARD EAGLES TO MEET TACONY

The Third Ward Eagles held a practice session last night in preparation for its game with the Tacony Panthers which will be played this Sunday on Leedom's field. The Eagles will also play home next Sunday, meeting a team from Trenton.

The Eagles have won two and lost two and last Sunday came through in the closing minutes of the game to beat out the Torresdale A. C., 14-7, in a hard-fought contest.

Coaches Joe Roe and Jesse Vanzant handled the workout last night and with only slight injuries in the Torresdale tilt, the Warders expect to have their fullest strength for the Tacony tilt.

George C. Hungry, who for the past 4½ years has been employed at the Bristol Terrace Housing Project, has resigned to accept a position with the Atlantic Refining Co., Philadelphia. Mr. Hungry was the oldest employee at the project, having been employed there when construction was still underway.

Postpone Hearings for Alleged Game Violations

LANGHORNE, Nov. 6.—Hearings scheduled here Monday evening for alleged hunting violations were postponed indefinitely according to deputy game protector Joseph Groner, of Bensalem Township.

The hearings were to have been held before Justice of the Peace Horace Cooper. According to Mr. Groner some of the cases might be settled "on the field," with the fines paid minus hearings. Cases, it is believed, will be concluded within the next two weeks.

The group arrested during the first days of the hunting season in lower Bucks County included a Philadelphia man said to have shot a hen pheasant in Bensalem Township; and a Bristol man, claimed to have a gun loaded while in his automobile.

In addition to those arrested for having loaded guns in their automobiles, shooting hen pheasants, and other violations, there were recently given nine warnings in the Hulmeville borough area.

Deputy game protector Groner states that he issued warnings to nine hunters for shooting within Hulmeville borough, or for shooting within less than 150 yards of dwellings or buildings connected therewith. There is a law against shooting within Hulmeville borough, and shooting within less than 150 yards of occupied dwellings or buildings connected therewith is prohibited. Hunters were reprimanded for both these violations, some shooting within less than 50 yards of occupied dwellings and within the borough limits, according to Mr. Groner.

"In the past couple of years warnings have been broken, and this year we started on the first day of gunning season to keep a check on hunters in that area. All nine give warnings on the first day of the duck season were from Philadelphia. They were let go with a warning, with the understanding that if such occurred again they would be prosecuted," added Mr. Groner. According to Mr. Groner there were no excesses in bag limits discovered in this section.
